The Trisagion Prayers

In Eastern Orthodox liturgy, The Trisagion Prayers are considered introductory prayers. These ancient prayers would be said before other prayers in the morning or evening. Trisagion means “three times holy.”

Note that the Lord’s Prayer at the end of these prayers ends in the Orthodox tradition with the phrase: of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit, both now and forever and to the ages of ages. Amen.

Take a deep breath and exhale before we pray these prayers together.

The Trisagion Prayers

In the name of the Father, Son, and the Holy Spirit. Amen. Glory to you our God, Glory be to Thee!

O Heavenly King, Comforter, the Spirit of Truth, present in all places and filling all things, Treasury of Goodness and Giver of life: come and abide in us. Cleanse us from every stain of sin and save our souls, O Gracious Lord.

Holy God. Holy Mighty. Holy Immortal Have mercy on us.

Holy God. Holy Mighty. Holy Immortal Have mercy on us.

Holy God. Holy Mighty. Holy Immortal Have mercy on us.

Glory to the Father, and the Son and the Holy Spirit, both now and forever and to the ages of ages. Amen

All Holy Trinity, have mercy on us. Lord, forgive our sins. Master, pardon our transgressions. Holy One, visit and heal our infirmities, for the glory of Your Name.

Lord, have mercy.

Lord, have mercy.

Lord, have mercy.

Glory to the Father, and the Son and the Holy Spirit, both now and forever and to the ages of ages. Amen

Our Father, Who art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

For Yours is the Kingdom and the Power and the Glory of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit, both now and forever and to the ages of ages. Amen.

Lord, have mercy.

Lord, have mercy.

Lord, have mercy.

In Jesus' name. Amen.
